NONCOMPLIANCE SUMMARY

The offender has not complied with the following condition(s) of supervision:

Violation Number	Nature of Noncompliance
1	Special Condition # 25: You must not have direct contact with any child you know or reasonably should know to be under the age of 18, without the permission of the probation officer. If you do have any direct contact with any child you know or reasonably should know to be under the age of 18, without the permission of the probation officer, you must report this contact to the probation officer within 24 hours. Direct contact includes written communication, in-person communication, or physical contact. Direct contact does not include incidental contact during ordinary daily activities in public places. Supporting Evidence: Mr. Rosser disclosed during a treatment session that he attended a piano recital at a local concert hall on May 5, 2017. The pianist was a 16 year old female. After the concert, he approached the 16 year old female pianist to congratulate her on her performance and to discuss her future plans to pursue her musical talents. He confirmed this unauthorized contact with this officer on May 16, 2017.

U.S. Probation Officer Action:

Mr. Rosser advised his approach of the 16 year old pianist was "innocuous" and he only wanted to congratulate her on her performance and encourage her to continue her craft. He understands the concern of his approaching this person under the age of 18 without permission and that any such contact, if not approved, needs to be reported to this officer within 24 hours. He apologized and stated he was not trying to circumvent his conditions of supervision or inappropriately have contact with someone under the age of 18 years old. He will report any future contacts within the time directed.

Mr. Rosser did disclosed the unauthorized contact during a counseling session with his therapist. His counselor addressed the concern and they addressed the issue within the aspects of his treatment.

Mr. Rosser was admonished for this breach of his conditions of supervision and appears to understand the potential danger of this action. This officer respectfully requests the Court allow the defendant to continue on his current term of supervision and permit this officer and his therapist to continue to assist the defendant with improving his coping skills to remain complaint with all aspects of his supervised release.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.
